The Menzies Centre for Health Policy invites you to join us for the 4th annual Emerging Health Policy Research Conference. The conference will showcase the work in progress of current doctoral and early career research workers. We invite research workers from all areas of health policy - including international health, health systems, history of public health, indigenous health, health economics and health promotion - to submit an abstract of their presentation.

Keynote Speaker:

John Wyn Owen, Chair, Board of Governors, University of Wales Institute, Cardiff; former Secretary of the Nuffield Trust; and former Director-General of NSW Health

Participation in the Emerging Health Policy Research Conference will provide an opportunity to:

- discuss health policy responses to current local, national and global health challenges;
- present ‘in progress’ health policy research to a wide audience of students, academics and practitioners;
- discuss new ideas and identify opportunities for collaboration across disciplinary boundaries.

Previous conferences have attracted people from a wide variety of backgrounds including industry, government, academic institutions and NGOs.

Current doctoral and early career research workers should submit their abstracts of no more than 250 words by Friday, 19 June to mchp@med.usyd.edu.au or fax (02) 93515204.
