Career opportunities in the tropics

Head, School of Education

Ref. No. 9074 – Townsville

James Cook University (JCU) is fast becoming one of Australia’s most distinctive universities with a focus on creating a brighter future for life in the tropics worldwide. The University is located in the vibrant regional community of tropical Queensland, which has one of the fastest growing economies in Australia adjacent to the Great Barrier Reef and Wet Tropics World Heritage Areas. The University’s internationally recognised research is matched by strong commitment to its region, partners and teaching. The University seeking to appoint a dynamic Head, School (Dean) of Education who will provide high-level strategic leadership, management and enterprising skills in driving the learning and teaching, research and community engagement functions of this large multi-campus School. As part of the Faculty senior leadership team, the successful applicant will work with the Pro-Vice-Chancellor in readying the capability of the School and the Faculty for the future.

Employment Type: Appointment will be full-time for a fixed term of 5 years subject to a probationary period. By mutual agreement a further contract may be offered. The appointee will be accorded the rank and title of either Professor or Associate Professor in accordance with academic credentials.

Salary: An attractive remuneration package will be offered. Benefits include generous employer superannuation contribution and attractive options for salary packaging.

Applications close on 26 June 2009.

For more information go to: www.jcu.edu.au/jobs enter the Reference Number in the search field and follow the links.

www.jcu.edu.au/jobs